CONGRESS MAKES WHITE SLAVE CASE

her advice from the attorney general was called up.
The committee report sets forth that the attorney general had supplied a telegram which read as follows:

"Please write me full particulars concerning the charges against Caminetti and Dicks, and take no affirmative action in respect to same until you receive orders from me. Answer."
(Signature)
"McKellar, Attorney General."

Accompanying the telegram was a memorandum showing it was sent by the attorney general personally on the evening of May 15.

Kahn to Debate Case.
Presenting the papers, the Judiciary committee recommended that the Kahn resolution be tabled, since its purpose had been accomplished.

On that report chairman Clayton arranged for five hours debate to allow representative Kahn to discuss the case and all circumstances of the Caminetti case.

Kahn Calls It a "Whitewash."
Representative Kahn pointed out that the telegram holding up the trial was sent more than a month before secretary Wilson asked the attorney general for delay.

"It was evidently necessary to whitewash the action of the attorney general," said Kahn, discussing president Wilson's action in the case.

"Instead of the statement that Dicks, Caminetti and the Western Fuel company directors, being rich or politically powerful, could secure delay and thus prolong the case,"

McKellar answers Kahn. Representative McKellar, of Tennessee, one of the Democrats, steadily opposed discussion of the case, characterized as a political harangue, and declared that "every member is disappointed by the failure of the gentleman from California to produce what expert witness is expected."

The house was wasting time spending five hours discussing an "inconsequential" matter of petty politics," he declared.

Henry Urges Another Probe.
Investigation of secretary McAdoo's charges that New York bankers had organized a campaign to depress the price of government two percent bonds was demanded in a statement today by representative Henry, aid to the so-called insurgent Democrats on the house banking committee.

Chairman Glass, however, declared the committee had its hands full considering the currency bill and did not propose to be diverted by other matters of the committee, however, members of the committee, however, made it plain that they shared the secretary's opinion as to the reason for the depression.

Wangle Over Currency.
Democracy of banking and currency committee have agreed to allow themselves two weeks more of wrangle over the administration currency bill.

The committee members voted to authorize the chairman to "ask for a caucus of the party to be called on August 11, to act upon such a report on the pending currency bill as will then be made by the committee, and the members directed the chairman to make public no details of what took place at the meeting."

The supporters of the administration bill, having failed in weeks of discussion and argument to win over three or four opponents of the bill, the Democrats of the committee, have decided to proceed without them and allow those dissatisfied with the administration to carry their fight to the house caucus. This will throw into the caucus the entire fight over the so-called insurgent amendments, providing for "cotton corn and wheat currency," as framed by representative Ragsdale, of Texas, and representative Ragsdale, of Texas, and representative Ragsdale, of Texas.

After considerable argument the conference refused to take the debate to be made public. It then was voted to enjoin secrecy as to the proceedings on every member of the conference.

ATTACKING BONDS
Secretary of the Treasury Asks New York Banks Are Compelled to Defeat Currency Bill.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—Secretary McAdoo, of the treasury department, has issued a statement today declaring that the decline of the government two percent bonds to 95 1/2—a new record—was due almost wholly to what appeared to be a campaign waged with every indication of concerted action on the part of a number of influential New York city banks to cause apprehension and uneasiness about these bonds in order to help them in their efforts to defeat the currency bill.

Banks throughout the country own almost entirely $730,832,130 of the two percent bonds. Their market value now is approximately $690,000 lower than when the banks bought them. Almost all the entire issue is used as security for national bank notes.

Secretary McAdoo announced it was not his intention to require the banks to charge off the present depreciation below the face of the bonds, but that he intended to put in the bonds at par in their statements to the controller of the currency at least "until some material change in conditions should compel the adoption of another course."

In his statement secretary McAdoo declared the two percent bonds were worth par notwithstanding their decline in the New York market.

The idea seems to be that the country banks which hold about two-thirds of the two percent bonds and use them as the basis for their circulating notes, may be induced to unite with the New York city banks in opposition to the bill if they can be made to believe that the proposed currency measure is going to injure these bonds and cause losses to the banks. This is, of course, unfounded.

"Meantime, it is folly for any bank to sell government two percent bonds at a sacrifice on account of any adverse legislation. In the 124 years of its existence the government has kept faith scrupulously with its creditors and it is not going to change its honorable character now. If the necessities of any bank oblige it to sell bonds at depressed prices, that, of course, is another matter—a matter solely for the bank to determine."

MAN WEIGHS 340 POUNDS; IS PROBLEM FOR POLICE
Prisoner, Wanted in Milwaukee, Is Hauled From Janesville, 140 Miles, in Reinforced Ambulance.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 29.—"Gibraltar" Frank Horatz, who weighs 340 pounds, whose legs are not strong enough to support him, and whose return from Janesville, has been a problem that worried the Milwaukee police for weeks, has arrived safely here. Horatz was arrested at Janesville at the request of the Milwaukee authorities, who held a warrant for him, charging abandonment of his family.

Efforts to bring him here failed for weeks, as the Janesville ambulance would not allow the use of a derrick to get Horatz into a railroad car. In the meantime, Horatz ran up a board bill for $100. A special reinforced ambulance was constructed and Horatz was packed into it with excelsior. The ambulance covered the 140 miles from Janesville to Milwaukee without accident.

WASHINGTON COMPANY GETS POWER PERMIT FROM U. S.
Lower the Rate Charged to Consumer, the Lower Will Be the Charge Collected by the Government.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—A new policy in granting water power permits was begun today when authority for development of an electric project with an ultimate capacity of 250,000 horsepower on the Pend d'Oreille river, Washington, was granted to the International Power and Manufacturing company. The grant may run perpetually and can be revoked only for violations of its terms or the provisions of the general regulations. The lower the rate charged to the consuming public, the lower the rate collected by the government and to protect the public further, a maximum charge of 6 cents per kilowatt hour was fixed.

To allow the United States to compete with Sweden, Norway and other countries in the manufacture of nitrates for fertilizing purposes, the company will have to pay only about 20 percent of the regular rate for the power it uses in such manufacture.

Griffith, Ind.
"Gentlemen: About September 10, 1908, my mother-in-law was taken sick with Catarrhal Pneumonia, which developed into Lung Trouble. In January, when Rev. Wm. Berg, of St. Michael's Church, at Schererville, Ind., prepared for her death he recommended that I get Eckman's Alternative, and see if it would not give her some relief. The attending physician declared she had Consumption and was beyond all medical aid. So I immediately had Rev. Wm. Berg to send for a bottle. Practically without hope for recovery, I insisted that she try the Alternative, which she did. I am glad to say that she soon began to improve. Now, she works as hard as ever, weighs twenty pounds heavier than she did before she took sick, and is in good health."

COWS HELD; OWNER IS PUT UNDER ARREST

The police are holding four cows which they gathered up in the Alta Vista district night before last. Cows that have been permitted to run at large of late on Bliss, Clouderoff, Tularosa, Alamogordo and other streets in the Alta Vista district, have done much damage to yards and shrubbery. Residents complained and the pound men watched for the prowlers and ran them in. When Enrique Aguirre, the owner of the cows, came to claim them, he was arrested and released on a $25 bond. He is to be tried this afternoon.

Efforts to bring him here failed for weeks, as the Janesville ambulance would not allow the use of a derrick to get Horatz into a railroad car. In the meantime, Horatz ran up a board bill for $100. A special reinforced ambulance was constructed and Horatz was packed into it with excelsior. The ambulance covered the 140 miles from Janesville to Milwaukee without accident.

TO VOTE BONDS FOR STREET WORK

East El Paso Residents Plan to Rush Election to Decide Upon Improvements for That Section.

Residents in the district extending from Piedras street on the west to the east end of Washington park, and from the Galveston-Harrisburg & San Antonio railway right-of-way on the north to the irrigation canal, will soon be voting on the proposition of issuing $32,000 worth of bonds for parking and paving that district. Plans to rush the matter to a direct vote were formulated at the meeting held Monday night by members of the East El Paso Improvement club. A committee, composed of Joe Dunne, Ed. Heid and Manuel Flores, was appointed to take charge.

A petition asking that the improvement district be created so that the bond issue could be voted on has already been submitted to the city council, and it is believed that it will be granted at the next session of the city council. Following that every member of the improvement club has pledged himself to urge those living in the district to support the bond issue.

Monday night every member of the club was urged to put down walks abutting his property and to see that others in the district did the same. There are in all about 50 blocks in the district, and property owners of 10 blocks where the sidewalks are lacking have promised to have them put down. Others are expected to do the same.

ROPES AND REFEREE ONLY ARE LACKING
Scrap On North Oregon Had All the Features of a Real Fight Except the Squared Circle.

Fight fans who did not get over to the Juarez fight Sunday and saw the bout between H. W. Hamilton and Bill Smith staged Monday afternoon in front of a store in the Mills building on North Oregon, did not miss anything but the ropes and a referee. Patrolman Key got there after the fourth round, after which it had been drawn by both contestants.

THE POOLS OF BLOOD ON THE SIDEWALK MADE INFIGHTING DANGEROUS AND RISKY. IF THE CROWD THAT GATHERED AND WITNESSED THE MILL HAD PAID ADMISSION, THE PURSE WOULD HAVE BEEN WORTH DIVIDING.

Hamilton's opponent had it on him in weight and size, but Hamilton apparently offset this handicap by science. He was good on blocking blows. Smith showed better class in the clinches. A referee would have given the fight to the smaller man.

Both fighters were docked at the station and later released on $5 bonds each, pending their trial, which will come up in the corporation court.
